

State Transit Authority of New South Wales

To Whom It May Concern,

The bearer of this letter did not arrive at their job / appointment / other engagement on time today because their bus / train / ferry was not running on time. As you may know the state government has decided to stop spending money on public transport so we ask that this note be held valid for not only this occasion but for the many times that they will be late over the coming years. No, it's not going to get any better because as people lose faith in public transport they will just start driving more often hence creating even more traffic. So we would kindly ask you to bear with us while Sydney comes to a grinding halt and then bursts in to flames.

Yours truly,

Marcus Busus

CEO of the STA
